

Authentic Assessment

University of Detroit Mercy • Center for Excellence in Teaching & Learning

In this mode of assessment, instructors provided creative learning experiences and scenarios to measure students' skills and knowledge in realistic situations; instructors may gauge students' knowledge in real-life (professional) and hands-on scenarios (rather than through a written examination).

Photo courtesy of Martin Splitt on Unsplash.