

Summative Assessment

This type of assessment is used to measure students' knowledge after a subject has been taught. Summative assessments are often examinations, final projects, final essays and other high stakes projects to show how well students have mastered key learning outcomes and objectives.

Photo is courtesy of Pexels.